Boston, June 12, 1881.

My dear Mr Wood,

I wish you would do me the favor to collect the within - I do not know who Martin & Ringon are but suppose they are Bankers. It is a small affair - the payments I make for the Journal are in round numbers and I work hard sometimes to get my money back - & when it does come it is in drivels.

(Privately - Mr. Allen don't owe for eight vols of the Journal and I cannot get a reply from him in relation to payt.)

For all these kind attentions I am much your debtor.

Very truly Yours

Dear Father & Son

Dear Sir

I am much obliged to your kindness in sending me ~~the~~^a portion of the lands of the Society.
The passage you marked for me is exactly the one that covers my position.

When the Law states that "Resignations made after the Unit Presbytery in March ^{will} ~~do~~ not discharge the members presenting such from 11.5.1 Resignations made before that date shall be ~~the~~ ^a members from his liability +

I therefore cannot gradually admit that I am in arrears to the Society, nor as I read the Law; the Society has allowed six months grace in which to pay the subscription. ⁽¹⁾ It is said at the end of that time - that is,
- the third Tuesday of the month - ~~that~~ a Resignation cannot be accepted, but the name is ^{to} be put down as a defaulter.

Now on your behalf. I am not six months in arrears therefore I can claim that my resignation be accepted.

you must derive from becoming acquainted

In regard to my name, offered in correspondence with the worthy society, all I have to say is that it is a person who is willing to be elected into it of any one member of your society.

I say that as it will withdraw my application. I have no other object in view, when making the application than to be able to the same way.
Are you ever kind enough to send me, with your paper to the letter the signature of a corresponding member and to write myself to a letter either of the two lines of the society to its corresponding member and they will be very glad.

I will try to send you the

Dear Sir

Yours of the 27th was received in due time, but I have been very busy this week, and have not had time to answer you. I have concluded to not sell the birds as specimens, but to let you have any of them you may want, at $1.00 each. When I have tried to have the use of them, but I have never loaned them to any one, and do not wish to any more, but I have heard so much of you that I have confidence, and feel assured you will use them well and return them.

In regard to the other birds I don't think you could use any of them. Two of them I sent you in to name two full skeletons, another one I sent you a piece, another one is a young bird, and the others are female heads cut for paper mill uses.

The list I sent you are the best in the lot. They are about the size of the following what you had except the very large Washington and a Lincoln and Washington a little larger than the Jefferson

Let me hear from you soon if you want any of them and I will send them at once

The arrangement would bring the principal line directly Charles Edward Arthur D.D. very near the Center of the circle which I think is the proper ^{place} because the most conspicuous place for it and most desirable as allowing it to cut in larger letters than could be possible if it is made the second line as the inscription now reads.

If however it is thought best to let it stand as it is I would suggest that the line in question should be thus

My Dear Sir: I received invitation, I laid in my desk and, at the card this morning, I was surprised and disappointed to find that the meeting is to be held to-night. It is impossible for me to get there. We have only two passenger trains to New York daily, from here - 7.40 A.M. and 7.10 approx. 2 miles from the station.

By the morning train I could not reach the City until after 10 o'clock, so I am deprived of the anticipated pleasures.

Are your rooms open, at "Elliott

I should very much like to visit them when in the City.

I feel greatly honored by being the first elected honorary member of the Society, however unworthy I am for the place because of my limited accomplishments in numismatology. I am sorry I have not been able to be actively useful in adding to the stock science so beneficial in historical research. You must "accept the March 18th 1876

It is with great regret that this Society has lost the member on Friday Feb'y 15th 1878 of Joseph Nichols one of its honorary members.
Born in Lehigh Co Pennsylvania March 24th 1799 he came to Philadelphia ^{about} the year 1818 or there he was for many years and up to 1869 in business as a fine arts manufacturer and his skill was such that he had the reputation of being the best mender of musical instruments in the United States But it is as a collector of coins that we have to do with Mr Nichols and his taste is an instance of what may result from a coin journaling in that direction I believe it is a well known fact that Mr Nichols had a strong desire to buy a cent of 1799 because that was the year of his birth I need hardly say that coins of this date are rare and when Mr Nichols had succeeded in finding one he was too much interested to sell but left on ~~and on~~ until his collection ~~in~~ ~~collection~~ became sufficiently large to cause the boxes to break in and steal a portion of it which alarmed the owner that he sold

Mr. Little Esq

How many perhaps imagine my feelings last evening, when called upon at a moment's notice to perform a task, I should not have thought of, with time for preparation - you can believe that my thoughts were busied with for the gentleman, whose absence was a great loss been an interesting occasion, forced me in a measure into a position from which I would have willingly escaped had any means of so doing presented themselves to my mind - Of course it is very easy to see what ought to have been done when it is quite too late and this occasion is no exception to the rule - It is ^{stated} ~~quite~~ apparent to my mind now, that the right thing to ^{do} ~~have been done~~ was to have written my dear lady, asking her to send a special messenger called for the purpose - On the whole the thing was a singular thing. What I ^{really} ~~would~~ ^{think} was, that some expression of the feeling that prompted the gift, should have a place in that duty dethe case - the present on the occasion, being then resolved upon a substitute ~~to make~~ ~~to make~~ who accompanied the gift with a few remarks (appropriate or otherwise you have papers) without making any attempt to speak the language ^{which I fear} ~~was~~ ~~rather~~ ~~in~~ little to the purpose. Making afterwards what remarks you deem proper as to the President's reply. I hope you will pardon my presumption in making this request, as I assure you I feel both honored and ashamed of this.

I am sure must have appeared to those present a very shaggy performance (My own share in it I mean)

Trusting that you will excuse my suggestion in the spirit in which it is ^{made by a} ~~made~~ ~~and~~ ~~not~~ regard it as an unreasonable interference with your duties; and leaving the matter entirely to your own judgment to accept or reject the same. also trusting soon to hear from you in the matter.
I remain

Yours truly

Wm. L. Galt

Have you heard from Wood? I suppose he will be full of excuses. P.R.

COLONEL JAMES ROSS SNOWDEN.

James Ross Snowden, L. L. D., who for many years occupied the positions of honor and trust, died yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, in the town of Hummelstown, Bucks County. The deceased was born in Chester, Delaware county, Pennsylvania, in 1810, and came from one of the oldest families of this city; his great-grandfather, John Snowden, having resided in Philadelphia in 1865. The father of the subject of this notice, was Rev. Nathaniel Randolph Snowden, who was born in Philadelphia in 1770, who was an excellent scholar, and had charge of collegiate and classical institutions. He was under his instruction chiefly, when the deceased son received his education. He was, however, for some time a student of Dickinson College, at Carlisle, before that institution passed into the hands of the Methodist Church. Turning his attention to the study of law, he was early admitted to the bar, and commenced the practice of his profession in Lancaster, Venango county, Pennsylvania. Soon after his admission he was appointed Deputy Attorney General, and subsequently Indian representative, as he was elected to the Legislature of Pennsylvania. In 1842 and 1844 he was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives. It is said that during the three sessions he presided no appeal was taken from his decisions. In 1845 he was named for the office of United States Senator, and though he had the highest vote on the first ballot in the caucus he had not a majority. But so high was he held in the esteem of the members that, though not a candidate, he was nominated by a large majority for the office of State Treasurer, and was subsequently elected and re-elected, and for two years, with great satisfaction, discharged the duties of the position. On retiring from the office of State Treasurer, he was appointed in 1847 Treasurer of the United States Mint and Assistant Treasurer of the United States at Philadelphia. For several years he held these positions and in 1853 he was appointed, on the death of Judge Pettit, who held the office for a brief period, Director of the Mints of the United States, and held that important trust until 1861. In the month of May of that year he was unanimously elected Prothonotary by the Judges of the Court. This position he held until within a few years ago. During all his active public life Mr. Snowden found time to cultivate his taste for literature and science. He gave much attention to the Pennsylvania historical societies and other similar organizations. He was the author of a description of ancient and modern coins in the cabinet collection of the United States Mint, in 1860; also a description of the medals of Washington; national and miscellaneous medals and other objects of interest in the museum of the Mint. In 1854 he published the "Coins of the Bible and its Money Terms," and in 1867, "The Cornplanter's Memorial," an historical sketch of Gy-sau-wa-chia, the Cornplanter, and of the six nations of Indians, with the report of Samuel P. Johnson, on the erection of the monument at Jenessdaga, to the memory of the Cornplanter. In 1868 he contributed the article on the Coins of the United States, to Bouvier's Law Dictionary. He also published a number of addresses, pamphlets on currency, coinage and other subjects, and numerous papers in periodicals. A pamphlet of much interest, from his pen, entitled, "A monetary measure for the People a Safe Treasury and a sound Currency," contained a suggestion which was adopted by the United States Government in 1864, providing for the issue of coin certificates. The deceased, soon after his admission to the bar, organized a company of volunteer infantry, of which he was captain, and subsequently, upon the organization of a regiment, was elected colonel. During the late rebellion he was lieutenant-colonel of the First Regiment of Home Guards in Philadelphia. Their services were tendered to the general government, but were not accepted. In 1845 he received the degree of A. M. from Jefferson College, and in 1872 the trustees of Washington and Jefferson College honored him with the degree of doctor of laws. The deceased in politics was an earnest Democrat, and was also a zealous member of the Presbyterian church. He married a daughter of Maj. Gen. Robert Patterson, who is well known to all Philadelphians.

Hon. J. Ross Snowden, L. L. D., died at his residence near this city on the 21st instant, after a painful illness, resulting from disease of the heart, in the seventieth year of his age. He was descended from one of the oldest families in Pennsylvania, his ancestors holding land within the limits of Philadelphia as far back as 1640. He was the youngest son of the Rev. Nathaniel Snowden, D. D., who was born in this city in 1770, being one of seven brothers, all ministers in the Presbyterian Church. His four brothers were prominent physicians in Pennsylvania, and his only sister was married to Hon. James Thompson, late Chief Justice of Pennsylvania. His early education was obtained at Dickinson College, under the tuition of his father, who for many years had charge of that institution. After leaving college he studied law, and was admitted to the bar ex gratia at the early age of nineteen. After his admission to the bar he removed to Venango county, Pa., and was shortly afterward appointed Deputy Attorney General. He subsequently entered public life, and for many years represented his district in the Legislature of our State. He was Speaker of the House in 1842 and '44. In 1845 he came within one vote of being nominated by the caucus of his party, which was then dominant, for the United States Senatorship, although at that time he was under 35 years of age. The same year he was elected State Treasurer, and re-elected the following year. He did more perhaps than any other man in the Commonwealth to restore its credit, then impaired by the action of the repudiationists, a party known as the "Anti-Tax Party." His incorruptible integrity and commanding ability gathered about him men of all parties, so that under his wise and judicious management the threatened disaster to the State was averted, and her bonds, which had been selling at a very low rate, rapidly advanced in price and have never since receded. In 1846 President Polk voluntarily tendered him the position of Treasurer of the Mint and Assistant Treasurer of the United States at Philadelphia, which position he accepted and filled with credit. In 1850 he returned to the bar, and was the solicitor of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Pittsburgh, which position he resigned to accept the Directorship of the United States Mint, tendered him by President Pierce. He continued as Director of the Mint until 1861, when he was appointed Prothonotary of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. During these active duties he was connected with many scientific, literary and historical societies, and as an elder of the Presbyterian Church took an active part in the various courts of that denomination. As a writer he had rare perspicuity and vigor, being the author of "Ancient and Modern Coins," "Medals of Washington and National Medals," "Biographical Notes of the Directors of the Mint from 1792 to 1861" and "Coins and Money Terms of the Bible." He contributed largely to "Bouvier's Law Dictionary" in the preparation of that important work. His argument upon the decimal system in the controversy held with Lords Montagu and Overstone, representing a committee of the British Parliament, is still preserved as one of the most exhaustive treatises upon that subject extant. In all the various responsible and honorable positions which Mr. Snowden filled during his life he displayed the qualities of a pure heart and a clear and cultivated intellect. His integrity of character and spotless life, as well as his distinguished abilities, endeared him to all who knew him. In his private and public career he presented an example worthy of imitation.

A LARGE FUNERAL.—The funeral of Hon. James Ross Snowden took place at two o'clock yesterday, from his late residence, Hummelstown, Bucks county. There was quite a large attendance of his neighbors, who held him in high esteem, and also of his personal and professional friends from Philadelphia. Among these were representatives of the judiciary, the bar, the ministry, and those who had been related to him in the several offices he had filled in the service of the State and the United States. He was buried in the Bensalem Presbyterian Churchyard, at Hummelstown. The pall-bearers were Judge Cadwallader, of the United States District Court, and Chief Justice Agnew, of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania; Rev. Dr. Cattell, President of Lafayette College, Easton, and W. V. McKean, George Bull and B. K. Jamison, Esqs.

His suggestion about the distribuwith a remark by Montfaucon, that the nobility of Rome and ~~and~~ ^{other}

Dear Sir!

Your letter has come at hand. There were at least 2 to 3,000 large American Medals in this world which but only a very limited number, were suitable for collection. The few we had in the American National Museum, and I do not even believe, that they are destroyed.
But in the case of these Medals, were, generally, a failure and, if I am not mistaken, a special law prohibits the striking of these Medals after 1876. I do not think that there will be any more for sale - unless the Mint at New York still a number left.

I was sincerely disappointed with several Medals, for which I had paid considerable prices believing them to be rare. They were too common for me. I had not seen as many as I had expected. I had thought that they were rare - although they are not so.

I have concluded not to send a full description of the pieces exhibited by me at our last meeting for insertion in the minutes as it would be of some length & would not likely prove so interesting from publication in the Journal as part of the Minutes and more especially in view of the fact that I have some other proposed articles in the shape of publications which would be more interesting. I would therefore say that my exhibit consisted of the coins & medals of the Franco-Mexican Occupation of Mexico from 1862 to 1867. The most noteworthy among the Coins was the 20 Peso Gold 1866 of the Mexican Mint, and several pieces of the Silver from the Mints, Guanajuato & Potosi. Among the medals was an interesting little Medallion Commemorative of the Meeting of the Junta of Notables in 1855. on the Obverse of which is a head of Maximilian, facing

"To the American Numismatic & Archaeological Society"

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of a pamphlet, Entitled, "On Some Coins of the Castellani Collection" - A paper read before the American Numismatic & Archaeological Society of New York, January 15th 1873 by Gaston S. Feuardent, For which the Society will please accept my grateful Thanks,

In response to the ticket attached to the pamphlet asking me to acknowledge the receipt, to the Society, was doubtless intended to elicit remarks, or comments, from me and others, to whom the pamphlet was sent? - After a careful perusal of Mr Feuardent's descriptions of the coins & medals, I cannot offer a word of comment, at the same time I must confess that my knowledge of Greek & Roman coins is so limited that it would be the height of presumption in me to attempt, to comment, or offer suggestions, or criticize these pieces,

It rarely occurs that so many unique coins are to be found in one collection,

Much of my time is now devoted to a different branch of Antiquities - "Pre-historic Antiquities" - Archaeologists have to be on their guard or they would be sacrificed every day, as there are unscrupulous persons, who fabricate beautiful specimens in imitation of prehistoric works of Art, and impose upon the unwary. And may it not occur in Numismatics,?

I hope at some future time, and that not far distant, to have the pleasure of being at a meeting of the Society, at this room, Respectfully.

The Society will please accept my thanks for Mr. Feraud's papers on the Estuola, and De Morgan Collection. I place a double value on all these little matters primarily of course for the information which they convey and secondly because they are in a line of collecting which I have followed for years.

typical titles and have obliged many a friend who happened to have a copy of it that that is confidential

It is for the reason against the striking of type or titles, and if you will look at a lot of them which for instance, your opinion about new titles will doubtless be modified.

The press we use is not as durable as the brass of the specimens, and which is held in the hands of a careful collector like yourself, is a beauty, it is just the country we seem as it changed hands several times.

The set of the Royal Society is very desirable indeed but American titles and illustrations have not the same value as the good will to make a perfect collection. There must be an American specimen equal to the British or the French specimen.

Dear Sir

In pursuance of my recent letter I beg to inform you that I have meanwhile received due notice from E. Savin, Esq concerning the Money Order.

The Money Order is in the sum of $ 2.25 as.

The Standard Medal in Silver $ 10. - Bronze $ 5. - Imp 50

Much higher prices were expected, but there seemed to be a general mistrust as to the later use of the dies, etc. For instance lot 527 "Standard Medal Silver proof" only "very much in the metal and the reverse die the 'as is' ", size 40 went only as high as $ 4 1/2 !!! at which price Mr. Randall kept the Medal himself?

With my next invoice, I will send you an invoice of "The Standard Medal for examination."

Lovett's Bronze receipt is erroneous.
He takes acid and vinegar. He should use only vinegar, finishing up with red choke the "working up". If I am allowed I will tell his receipt without acid, experimenting in The lippen medals I told you, I could do at the price of the smaller size, provided they would come up with me immediately.

You know as well as I that the work I do for you is at least one half the price you could get the same done elsewhere. Consequently I hardly think it fair for you to expect first class work at one half price, if you return the lippen and make metal ~~one~~. I can have the edges turned and change for the same as the former change me, which will make them look much better;

I can turn out as good work both in size and stamping medals as any one does in the trade, my book on the same subject, of the praise you give it —

It is one of those tasks

When I began it, I had no idea of the number of Masonic Records, see the end. I hope to be able to make something approaching a complete list, but with the immense number of foreign theater, it can only be a partial one. You are probably aware that Meyerhoff, a German writer - is the great authority on the continent. His list embraces upwards of 300 - I think I have given or at least obtained descriptions of not less than 100 unknown to him, or of known, undescribed.

You may be interested to know that after my list had been published in half a dozen or more numbers of the Journal, I accidentally learned, through a correspondent in Germany, of Meyerhoff's death, & the to me very interesting fact, that he

Dear Sir!

I have credited your account with $44.00 with sincere thanks.

I will bring the Medals sent in the next days, as soon as the weather is favorable.

As to the 1876 50c, I could sell 2 duplicates at $10. - each, without being able to procure them. I got yours from a party at the Mint, who had only that one specimen and one in Aluminium for which he wanted $20. - I make only my commission. If you prefer one in Bronze, Robert C. Davis is anxious to exchange with you. He got 2 in Bronze but none in copper proof.

Knight's die may be in the hands of a member of his family - but nobody knows about it. I think that Smith (or Smith & Hartmann) the New York die sinkers, who owned the Heubner and Nash. Irving has may know more. I am told - but do not guarantee the veracity - that Mr.

specimen wanted some time ago the specimen in silver I sent you, but did not take it, as $50 - was asked for the Medal.

As a curiosity I inform you that last week not less than 1400 centennial commemorative Medals were sold at Auction. I purchased a dozen large, copper gilt, retail price originally $5.-, at 75 cts.

The coming Hickory sale will embrace some discs, which might perhaps be desirable to you: Christie disc of a John Adams Medal, of a Jackson Inauguration Medal, &c. disc of Washington term. Resigned, etc. &c.

There is also a lot of discs, some even unfinished in preparation of a Shaw in this city, who perhaps would sell them cheap. I will try to get a list.

The John Adams brought at Auction sales over $16. — ! I put it at $5. —, because there will be several at the Miesley sale. This sale takes place in October, but catalogues can not yet be had.

I suppose the U. S. Government will go for the John Adams die! It is bound at least to purchase the coin dies (U. S. Ents, Quarters etc) to stop any misuse of them.

As soon as I see Davis, I will tell him about the Gray Medal. So more of them will turn up, except if parties who had them presented would sell their pieces. Davis for instance got 3 as a present from Governor Bliss.
But as long as Bessy Shell remains Chief, some certain fraudulent transactions are doubtless impossible; although the paternal love of Governor Pollock (confidentially) is sometimes, as I am told, stronger than his integrity !!

Dear Sir,

Please find enclosed the letter regarding the Medallion (see above), you very kindly sent me. It has called my attention to an error in my description of the medal, where I ~~thought~~ find I have transposed the position of the supporters. The eagle being on the dexter instead of sinister side — It will make one more in my list of errors & corrections at the end — It annoys me excessively to fall into these blunders — In describing a shield the observer right is smaller - of course I have known that for some years, & have made the blunder I now only guess from the fact that so many of the medals I am describing are continental medals, where writers follow the rules of Locality, as to position - That is what is on obverse left, they call right, as heralds call it dexter

Your Adams medal is 309 in my list - It is a very interesting one to me, & the legend is very short & appropriate.

I have just printed up to hope to get Part II out by

Dear Sir:

I enclose a rough plan of an arrangement of coins, said to be, by far the handsomest affair of the kind in the country; the plan will give an idea of the arrangement, but only an idea, as the proportion, order, etc. is but very slightly expressed. The general effect from the colors of the coins and from the reflection of light is very rich.

The coins are the United States Mint issues of copper, nickel and silver from 1793, with the exception of the 1796 Half Cent, and some of the rarest silver pieces, but they include a large number of varieties, also a considerable number of Colonials, the coins are mostly proof or uncirculated. They are kept in dark velvet with very small silver headed tacks that are not visible at a short distance, upon the velvet is a watermark and under that a blanket, the whole forming a cushion upon which are the coins under glass.

The coin picture, including the frame is nearly 7ft by 5ft. it has always attracted attention. I have visitors calling every little while and I have been told by some who have seen similar affairs in New York, that mine was by far Superior to anything that they had ever seen.

The frame without the glass was $100. and the velvet 17 or a yard.

If there is any New York gentleman of your acquaintance that would like to make an offer, I will sell it at a reasonable price, as I wish to make another picture and cannot afford two such.

The coins are arranged according to states

Dear Sir

Dear Sir, I had the pleasure of correspond-and I now venture to introduce myself anew and ~~thrust~~ myself upon you.

Notice - By degrees, perhaps in consequence of a subsidence of enthusiasm in some of my comrades, perhaps for other reasons the editing of the "Antiquarian" has fallen entirely upon my shoulders, and I am glad of a hint from any quarter.

I desire to make some sort of explanation so as to set myself right at least. You may have observed that scarcely anything has been acknowledged in the Magazine, and I may say that through Mr Holmes you have learned that a Medal which you were good enough to send us never reached us - You must have become sensible that there has been a "screw loose" somewhere, I have to tell you that, with the exception of the American Journal, very little, if anything, has found its way thence for some time past, one of our body, apparently, having carefully retained everything to himself for his own advantage - however we have taken steps to the best of our ability to put a stop to it - May I beg the favor of your addressing anything you may have to send either to Mr Holmes or myself; if for the Maga.

members. I am steadily accumulating materials for a Connected Catalogue of Canadian Coins and Medals. There is but a few specimens from different sources. I find that it is somewhat of a complete Collection of Canadian. I should very much like to obtain all of the early issues giving that electrolytic. You may know of any number that could be sent to me or to the copy of the list if necessary. It present in our City Museum. It does not attract much attention even from a limited circle.
Many of the older collectors having gathered their specimens without their previous knowledge of my new Collection.

While in Toronto the other day I came across in the shop of a jeweller of no less than four pairs of the medallions which have not to my knowledge been described. So eager was I to possess copies of these medals that I paid cost for impressions to be sent off and forwarded to me. I rather think it was too anxious as now after two months and after having written several letters I am without the medals.
Although still expecting more of course not with such great expectations.
The medallion was described with great detail. I could not well make out the design and expecting medallions from them I did not give them particular attention

I believe Mr. Mutton has a number of the rare Canadian he would be willing to

I believe he has a mile wide there may be others also.

Surely, you will find time to read the second

Pardon my long delay in acknowledging the interesting pamphlets on the ^{Isola &} Morgan & Castellani Collection, also Mr Clutton's ~~original~~, which I have read with great interest, & have afforded me some relief, whilst stretched on a bed of pain.

What a novel derivation of the Roman word serpens from the Sanscrit ayas, given by Mr Tennant!

The symbolic meaning of serpens and eternity given to the serpent might not supply an explanation for the Philippus medal? is not that of medicine rather mal à propos? or far-fetched.

The Q. put at the bottom of p. 6. seems easily ~~and~~ answered by the most common practice of all governments, & universal history.

These are some of the questions referred to me - I do not write them down by the way of epistolary causerie, & not from any sort of epigraphic interest; for I am no Epigraphist.

My collection of works on epigraphy I broke up my residence at the north has been down to a few. I would feel indebted

Mr. Isaac F. Wood,

Dear Sir,

Your letter concerning the medal addressed to Pres. Chamberlain, in his absence abroad, has been placed in my hands for such reply as I can make.

It has, I am sure, no connection with this College which was only in embryo in 1791, was incorporated into law in 1794, but whose activities did not ~~can~~ begin before 1800.

It seems somewhat of a jest to use the words "in Repub. Main. when Main did not become a State until 1820. Still, ~~the~~ the District of Maine, though a part of Massachusetts at the time, by a warrantable fiction, ~~it~~ might be styled a republic. In 1791 Don Academy was incorporated in the town of Berwick, if not the first, very nearly the first Academy that received an act of Incorporation in the District of Maine. The ~~the~~ word "Barvic" would be the Latin for Berwick. "Cond." is, of course, "founded." which corresponds with the date of that Institution, which is still in being. as to Cogswell,

There are Cogswells in Norwich. we read
... Hon. Chas. Northing, Cogswell, 1814, from that town. I have no means of ascertaining who was the best Cogswell was.

It seems rather singular that in 18 commemorate what seems to be a small event ~~that~~ should have been struck in England. The records of that academy, if they were not in the conflagration of the old building, may give some light.

And again, a query arises concerning the coat of arms. as the Maine State Coat of Arms must have been decided when Maine became in 1820.

Very truly yours,

A. S. Packard

Extract from minutes for meeting of the Numismatic evening, 18th October 1870.

With reference to the statement of the previous year's account that, in the meeting of read and approved. It was also agreed that the same should be publicly audited, to be audited and reported upon the same.

and apologized therefor. The Chairman having expressed a desire to leave the chair, Mr. McLachlan was appointed to fill the same. Mr. McLachlan then proposed, seconded by Mr. Adams, that a resolution of the foregoing Mr. McLachlan be expelled from the

At the monthly general meeting of the Society, held on Saturday evening, 11th October 1878,

The meeting was held at the residence of the Secretary, Mr. Lewis, at 11, St. James Street, N. W.
The meeting was held at 8 o'clock, and was attended by about 50 persons and visitors present. Mr. MacLachlan said that whilst he was Curator the cabinet was in a very poor condition, and that the 14th of Nov. 1878 - the day when the cabinet was opened, after having been closed for some time, was a very sad day, and that the Society regrets that its cabinet was not given the necessary attention and care when under the charge of its Curator, Mr. Mac-Lachlan, and that the accounts of the Society were not kept so as to become confused, and whilst the Society cannot but condemn his action in with it a certain catalogue of Canadian names advertised to be sold at the big, uncuttable in view of his unhappiness of the name the society would soon appear, and some of the names of the Ayles, 5, 4, 3, 1 not voting. The meeting the

New York.

Dear Sir.

It is with Llanes that I have knowledge except of pamphlets or Roman medallions.

In one of Cogans Catalogue May 6/9 1878 a coin 180 1199 was described as pertaining to London entered, • on inquiring concerning such a coin issued in London I could learn nothing, and have come to the conclusion that it likely emanated from London this. Could you set me right regarding it-

Yours Respectfully

NUMISMATIC AND ANTIQUAR-IAN SOCIETY OF MONTREAL.

The Annual meeting of this Society was held last Tuesday evening in the Library of the Natural History Society, University street, the Hon. P. J. O. Chauveau, President, in the chair. There were a large number of members present; among whom were noticed Major Latour, Dr. Beers and Messrs Gerald E. Hart, Charles T. Hart, Thos. Craig, John Horn, Wm. McLennan, Col. D'Orsennens, C. Cushing, R. W. McLachlan, G. A. Holmes, R. S. Weir, W. A. Weir, H. Rose, L. M. Lewis, W. Drysdale, Thomas Jubb &c, &c., After some donations had been received, the Treasurer read his Annual Report which showed a small balance in favor of the Society. He also submitted a statement of the Caxton Celebration accounts, which show that the Society has suffered much pecuniary loss in connection with that occasion. The Curator's report showed a small increase in the number of the Coins and Medals in the Society's Collection. The election of office Bearers for 1879 was then proceeded with, and the result of the ballot was as follows:—President, Hon. P. J. O. Chauveau, re-elected by acclamation; 1st Vice President, Henry Mott, re-elected; 2nd Vice President Major Latour; Curator, Wm. McLennan, re-elected by acclamation; Treasurer, G. A. Holmes, re-elected; Secretary, Thomas Jubb. Editing Committee of "the Canadian Antiquarian and Numismatic Journal," Messrs Henry Mott, Wm. McLennan, and Thomas Jubb. The pages of this Magazine are always well filled with Numismatic, Archaeological, Historical and other reading, and it is invaluable to any one interested in any of these branches of Science. We hope to see its circulation widely extended. The Society deserves credit, and encouragement in its laudable efforts to promote the study of the Numismatics and Archaeology of Canada. It is, we believe, the only one of the kind in the Dominion, and we would recommend any of our readers who feel interested in these subjects, to add their names to the roll of membership. The Society is endeavouring to secure a suitable room in which to arrange its collection and hold its monthly meetings. The members are determined to labour to make the institution a success—the valuable collections and store of information which they have gathered being good proof of the love which they have for the science.
